TIGERS CHAMPIONS IN FOUR M.V.C. SPORTS

Take Title in Track, Baseball, Cross Country and Tennis.

M. U. WINS SEVEN CUPS

Becomes Permanent Owner of Spalding Trophy in Track.

Seven championship cups—four of them Missouri Valley Conference cups—were won by Missouri teams in the last scholastic year. The "Missouri Valley Intercollegiate A. A. Challenge Cup" is the latest addition. It is known as the Spalding Trophy, having been put up by the A. C. Spalding Company in 1908. Missouri became the permanent owner by winning the conference championship in track three years in succession.

"This is one of the few times," Prof. C. L. Brewer said, "that a trophy has been awarded permanently to any team in the country. It is very seldom that any team can win a championship three years in succession."

The Spalding Trophy is one of the most treasured of all the cups won in the history of athletics at the University of Missouri. It is of silver with trimmings of gold. Four gold feet, symbolical of the fleet feet of Mercury, decorate the sides of the cup. A glass case for the cup is being made.

Two Championships to Nebraska.

Missouri won another cup when she beat Kansas in the outdoor track meet at Lawrence. The other cups won are: Tennis championship, both singles and doubles; cross country run, track and the indoor relay championship.

"Missouri won four Conference championships," Professor Brewer said, "while Nebraska won two. None of the other conference members won any. The conference championships which went to Missouri this year are tennis, cross country, baseball and track. Nebraska won the football and basketball championships."

Kansas Pitcher Ineligible.

The other cups won were no conference cups. With the arrival of the Spalding Trophy the year's winnings were placed in the trophy room of the Rothwell Gymnasium. Since the Spalding Trophy was put up in 1908 it has been held one year each by Iowa State College, Grinnell College and the University of Kansas. Missouri has held the trophy for the last three years and is now its permanent owner.

While the conference does not officially recognize a baseball championship, the honor is conceded to Missouri since a protest against Bishop, the star Kansas pitcher, has been allowed. Bishop was the mainstay of the Jayhawk team all season, although he was only a freshman and consequently ineligible.

TOWNS WANT GOOD ROADS

Will Unite to Improve "Old Trail" Across Boone County.

A good road from the east to the west side of Boone County along the Old Trails Road is the slogan of residents in this county now. P. S. Quinn has charge of the work from Columbia east to Callaway County. Odon Guitier, Jr., is superintending the work west to Rocheport. The mayor of Rocheport has issued a proclamation making tomorrow a holiday when all the citizens of the town and the surrounding country will work the roads. The merchants of the town will close their stores and help with the work.

A meeting was held at Midway the first of the week where enthusiasm was aroused and promises made to help with the work. Another good roads rally was held at Fulton Monday and another at Harg Wednesday night. E. C. Clinkscales, J. C. Schwabe, P. S. Quinn, S. F. Conley, Dr. Guy L. Noyes, J. L. Stephens, Odon Guitier, Jr., are leaders in the movement.

The Columbia Automobile Club is making preparations for the entertainment of an automobile touring party from Indiana July 4. It is expected that about three hundred will come. The club is planning to have a dinner on the campus of Stephens College. Speeches will be made and music and entertainment will be arranged for the visitors.

TELLS OF ANCIENT ATHLETIC CONTESTS

"Olympia and Olympic Games" Is Subject of Prof. Walter Miller.

SHOWS GREEK VIEWS

Describes Places He Has Visited in the Hellenic Peninsula.

"The Olympic games date back to the eighth or ninth century, B. C.," said Prof. Walter Miller of the Latin department of the University in his lecture at Assembly Thursday morning. "While many different stories are told as to the origin of the games, it seems that Lycurgus, the Spartan lawgiver, was the founder."

"The young men who took part in those contests were trained for months," Prof. Miller said. "It was considered a great honor to win in any race or other athletic event. The victor has allowed certain exemptions from military duty, was given the best seat in the theater and was shown other unusual honors and courtesies. The training which the athlete was required to take qualified him to be a better soldier, in case he was to fight the battles of his state."

Professor Miller showed many interesting views of places which he had visited in Greece. He showed the ruins of what were the athletic fields and the gymnasiums of the centuries just before our era. He pointed out the Olympic athletic field, showing how it appears at the present time, and explaining how it had been destroyed by earthquakes.

The ruins of the Temple of Zeus were also shown. This temple played an important part in the early athletic events, as the athlete was required to take his vows in this building. These vows were promises to obey all the rules of the contests, and to conduct himself properly under all circumstances.

Mr. Miller also showed views of the surrounding country, and explained how examinations have uncovered the ruins of the athletic fields. Part of the country surrounding Olympia was buried under twenty feet of sand.

FORMER M. U. STUDENT DIES

Miss Maude Neal Won Prize for An Essay Here in 1903.

Miss Maude H. Neal, who while attending the University of Missouri in 1903, took second prize in the Shakesperian literary contest, died at Crawley Downs, twenty-five miles from London, early last Thursday morning. Miss Neal was the daughter of George A. Neal, an attorney of Kansas City, Mo.

Shortly after leaving the University Miss Neal wrote poetry and prose of merit. She entered the newspaper field as a member of the Chicago American staff in 1906.

Miss Neal nearly broke up the Republican national convention in Chicago by tossing a large Teddy bear from the gallery into the midst of the delegates. The convention was immediately in an uproar and it was an hour before order was restored.
